

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Friday morning's report from Arthur Cooper, 3, of Brooklyn, was that he was improving at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam, and hope for his recovery is now stronger than at any time since he was injured, three weeks ago, when he was knocked down by an automobile and suffered a fracture of the skull.

One in a series of health institutes being held in Windham county towns is scheduled for East Killingly for Wednesday of next week. It is to be held under the joint auspices of the U. S. department of agriculture, the Connecticut Agricultural college and the Windham County Farmers' Association. Morning and afternoon sessions are to be held, the morning session opening at 10:30, with an address on the importance of keeping well by Miss Flora M. Miller, home economics director for this county. Other subjects that will be treated are Community and Family Hygiene, Feeding the Family, Prevention and Treatment of Contagious Diseases, Child Health through Food.

William M. Franklin has made a record of catching more trout probably than any other Danielson fisherman so far this season. Up to Friday he had taken 109, and this did not include any fish under seven inches in length, as he returned to brooks all shower than that length. Sightseers from Danielson find watching the big steam shovel that is at work grading the state road west of Brooklyn village interesting pastime. Steady progress is being made in the building of this new stretch of state highway, which will bring Williamsville and Danielson into closer relationship than ever before and direct route to Hartford and points west for traffic from this part of the state.

Amplified reports of the damage done Thursday morning as the result of the temperature dropping down to 26 degrees came in during Friday. Many farmers have lost heavily in garden truck from the unexpected drop in temperature and are discouraged over the prospect of being required to plant gardens again.

Odd Fellows' organizations from various parts in Windham county, including Putnam, Williamsville and Central Village will come here on Sunday, June 5, to participate in a Memorial service. The organizations, including Rebekah lodges, will parade under escort of the Wauregan band, to Westfield cemetery, where graves of deceased members will be decorated. It is probable that in the evening a memorial service will be held at the Baptist church.

The latest unconfirmed rumor relative to trolley service is that there is a possibility of resumption of service between North Grovesendale and Webster. This part of the lines in eastern Connecticut has not been operated since the railwaymen's strike of two years ago this coming summer. What Killingly people are especially interested in however, is the resumption of service to East Killingly, where no electric cars have been since last October.

Despatches from Akron, O., Friday stated that the incorporation fees paid at the office of the secretary of state at Columbus in connection with the filing of papers of the new Goodyear Tire and Rubber corporation amounted to in excess of $130,000, the largest amount ever paid in Ohio for a similar purpose. The filing of these papers is regarded as indicating that the Goodyear company's difficulties are nearer adjusted than at any time since the slump of last fall. There are no developments pertaining to the local subsidiary of the company.

Claude Z. Jette of Wauregan, representing the fraternal Sigma Nu, has been named as a member of the senior promenade committee of Trinity college, Hartford.

The hazard over the auspices of Rose of Lima council K. of C. opened auspiciously at the town hall Friday evening. The hazard proved something of a novelty for Danielson and the many attractions furnished hits for the crowd. In addition to the various other entertaining features there was dancing.

Amanda Kasnotes, 8, of Sterling, died Friday morning at the Day Kimball hospital as the result of burns she received last Sunday. The little girl's dress flamed when she got too near a brush fire that was burning near her home. The child's body and legs were badly burned. She was hurried to the hospital here and had remained in a serious condition since the accident.

Consistent New Cadres of North Grovesendale was mentioned Friday as a candidate for appointment to the state police force. Mr. Coderre has had considerable experience as an officer. Game Warden Harry E. Butler of East Killingly was also mentioned for appointment to the state police force.

It is felt in many quarters hereabouts that a state police resident in this section of Windham county should be appointed. In the past there has been considerable work for members of the state police department in this and surrounding territory, as Windham county is not represented on the force.

Unexpected and unfavorable developments in the legislature have held up, at least temporarily, final approval of the bill appropriating $30,000 for the construction of the state highway between Mechanicville and Grovesendale, an improvement that is greatly needed and one that would eliminate two dangerous grade crossings. The measure stirred in a considerable debate in the house this week and finally resulted in the measure being tabled just at a time when it was expected that it would be finally approved. The bill is the only one that has carried a special appropriation for highway work that has received any favorable consideration from the legislature at this session.

What will become of it now is a matter of conjecture. It was stated here on Friday, though if it does not pass there will be great disappointment in towns hereabouts. The Grovesendale company was given a strip of land to the state as part of the route for the new highway.

Child health and community hygiene will be subjects receiving special consideration at this meeting. There are to be morning and afternoon sessions. Everyone is welcome to attend this meeting and those who care for children are especially invited.

It became apparent Friday as more complete reports came in that the damage by the freeze of Thursday morning was more widespread and serious than was at first realized. All through this territory there are gardens that are practically ruined. Beans, peas, potatoes, cucumbers and many other growing things were literally frozen stiff and the gardens will have to be replanted. The damage extends through Putnam and all of the surrounding towns.
